MATERNITY Healthcare furniture

Having a baby is a very special event, which involves the whole family. Mum is not a traditional patient, which means a room in a maternity unit should not be approached as a classic hospital room.

You are admitted to the maternity unit as a family. Therefore, it is important to create a cosy home-like setting that radiates calm and in which every family member feels at ease.

“Mum is not a traditional patient”

MATERNITY Healthcare furniture

The INO reclining armchair is a prime example of this. It provides the family with cosy, multifunctional seating. Mum can sink down in it to relax or feed the baby. For Dad, the armchair can be quickly transformed into a comfy armchair bed. are the perfect combination of comfort and functionality.

Being close to the baby contributes to the sense of security felt by the whole family. For this reason, a lot of reclining armchairs can be fitted with wheels.
